—IS OFFERING—

The Most Remarkable Bargains

Ever known in the history of the Dry Goods Trade, bought from the great bankrupt sale of Halstead, Haines & Co., of New York.

Think of It!

A Nice Dolman, Fur-Trimmed and Well-Made, for $3.85

The same article is offered by our competitors at $5, as a big leader.

HANDSOME NEWMARKETS, long and well-made, only $5. You can buy the material for the money. They are cheap at $10.

A HANDSOME CLOAK, well-made and all-wool, nicely trimmed, for $2.50, and no one will sell the same garment for less than $12.50, as a leader. We have over 2,500 cloaks to select from, from the cheapest to the finest grades, and no one can sell you a cloak as cheap.

Go into any three of the largest houses in the city, count the number of customers, then come in and see the crowd, and you will see we have more than all the others combined.

We will sell you a good bed comforter for 75 cts. A pair of good blankets for $1.25. Ladies' merino underwear, 33 cts. Ladies' all-wool scarlet underwear, $1.25; would be cheap at $1.75.

Handsome lace curtains, with brass cornice poles free. Handsome lace curtains, with brass cornice poles, brass trimmed, free.

Take a look at our corner window as the goods we offer.

We have the handsomest shawl stock in the city.

Our DRESS GOODS DEPARTMENT is full of the choicest and cheapest line of goods ever offered in this city. Come in early and see them. It will pay you richly.

Big bargains for everybody. Over 50,000 dollars' worth of goods thrown upon the market, bought from the great bankrupt stock of HALSTEAD, HAINES & CO.

Bargains in Flannels! Bargains in Blankets!
Bargains in Hosiery! Bargains in Gloves!
Bargains in Notions! Bargains Throughout the Entire House!

It will pay you to call and see us.

DO YOU SELL

THE PEOPLE'S STORE?

—THEN—

You Can't Sell to Us!

Is the first question put to every commercial traveler who visits Los Angeles by our genial neighbors, ere the stupefied person has said good day, shows his samples or solicited patronage. Well, we don't wonder at it. They must handle the quantity and cannot get the inside price, and as they are not content with a legitimate profit, they cannot afford to sell the same line of goods and compete with us.

This season we are showing an immense importation of the finest and cheapest dress goods. Our styles embrace the latest novelties in stripes, plaids, plains and fancies. We are overstocked, and our dress goods will be found piles reaching to the ceiling and at less than wholesale cost. This is no sell-blow, but a fact, to be substantiated by consulting our prices and comparing them with those of others.

We have just opened nine cases of silks, velvets and plushes, in plains and brocades, and are selling these goods from 50c. to $1.50 a yard less than elsewhere.

To-morrow we will show over 500 new cloaks, wraps, Newmarkets, sacques, circulars, ulsters, etc., etc., in every design and style imaginable. We are aware that the season is backward, that every house in town has made large importations—are heavily stocked—and if you think the PEOPLE'S STORE is going to keep these cloaks you're badly fooled. We know what we get a black eye as well as anybody, and this entire line of wraps is to be sold at less than the cost of the material, and we stake our reputation upon the truth of this assertion.

We are offering bargains in gents' furnishing goods that cannot be equaled in the State. Our boys' clothing department is doing a splendid trade, showing our prices to be popular.

Our millinery department is in receipt daily of new novelties for head-gear and this season's styles embrace the most becoming and desirable.

CONSUMPTION

AND ALL THE VARIOUS DISEASES OF the Head, Throat and Chest, including

Eye, Ear and Heart,

—successfully treated by—

M. Hilton Wiliams,

M. D., M. C. P. S. O.,

At 267 North Main st., opposite the Baker Block, Los Angeles, Cal.

PROPRIETOR OF THE DETROIT

Throat and Lung Institute,

—At Detroit, Michigan.—

Our California office is personally conducted by Dr. Williams, and is permanently established for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Catarrhal Ophthalmia (sore eyes), Catarrhal Deafness.

Also diseases of the heart. Our system of practice consists in the most approved Medicated Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional treatment. Having devoted all our time, energy and capital for the past 12 years to the treatment of the above diseases, we are enabled to offer the afflicted the most perfect remedies and appliances for the immediate cure of all these troublesome affections.

Catarrh.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and the patient expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he has another, and yet he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off, but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovering from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is often felt in reading, speaking, or singing; hoarseness at times occurs; a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there appears a sense of languor and fatigue, breath lessens upon a little exercise, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though the lungs were not room enough in the chest to breathe freely, and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Finally it is a time when consumption is about to begin its fearful work. To this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "recover from it soon," but this delusion is the grand error that has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

The treatment of this disease requires care and perseverance on conduct it to a successful issue. The remedies must be carefully adapted to the stage of the disease in each case, and applied directly to the parts affected, which may be done by the patients themselves, wherever they may be, and without hindrance to their daily duties; and we would in this place urge our eastern friends the necessity of direct medication in the treatment of these diseased, and not to depend upon the beneficial effects of the climate alone for their restoration to health, as in this way thousands find their way to the grave, who might have been cured with the aid of proper remedies.

Inhalations are applicable to all diseases of the respiratory organs, including catarrh, throat diseases, asthma, bronchitis, consumption, and thousands of cases can be cured by this mode of treatment when nothing else can reach them. A positive cure effected in every case if taken in time.

Consultation free, and prices within the reach of all.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally, may write for "List of Questions" and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge, to any one.

THE MORNING'S NEWS.

There was a great flurry in the Pittsburg oil market yesterday.

The Grand Hotel at Lauterbrunner, Switzerland, was burned yesterday. Damage, $100,000.

Joseph Cook is on route to Portland, Oregon, and will deliver three lectures there, November 6, 7 and 8.

Mr. Blaine was interrupted in his speech at Fort Wayne, Indiana, yesterday, by a lot of Democratic hoodlums.

Governor Cleveland was assaulted at Albany by a crank yesterday, whose brother-in-law he had refused to pardon.

The Canadian Pacific railway management took over from the contractors yesterday a portion of the line from Sudbury.

The residence of J. R. Hodson at Sacramento was burglarized of watches, diamonds and jewelry last evening valued at $1,300.

In response to an invitation, Governor Cleveland and staff will review the National Guard in New York city on Tuesday next.

A Moscow dispatch says the German theater and seventy-six shops were destroyed by fire there yesterday. The damage is estimated at 300,000 roubles.

THE National Prohibition party favors unlimited Chinese immigration and the Democratic party.

MR. BLAINE is bound for the White House. He is on the right train, and you Democrats, if you want to "git thar," you'd better "git aboard the keers."

THE silver-tongued orator, Fitch, spoke eloquently in defense of Christianity, and against Ingersoll paganism, at the Opera House last night. We present in another part of the TIMES a fair synopsis of his lecture.

A SANTA ANA correspondent of the TIMES goes to the core of the matter in his letter showing the alliance of the Democrats and Prohibitionists. The Cleveland spigots and St. John bigots are hunting in couples this year. It is a strange and an infamous alliance.

ARKAN. Paddy, dewy, and did you hear
The news that's going round?
The Democrats are everywhere
A-losing their old ground.
With Blaine and Logan tried and true—
The finest ever seen—
We'll waltz to the land from North to South,
And paint it red—and green.

THE Los Angeles Herald remarks editorially:

The Herald's reports of the Fair and races have, as is customary with this journal, been thorough and exhaustive and have far surpassed in accuracy and amplitude those of its contemporaries.

The Herald keeps constantly on hand a large and choice stock of gall, which is daily reinforced by fresh supplies from its own manufactory.

THE Prohibitionists of Los Angeles county have converted themselves into a lot of bushwhackers. They have entered the service of the Democratic party, their life-long enemy, and are firing from the bush into the faces of the Republicans, from whom they have received the only help they ever got outside of their own slim and impotent ranks.

SINCE the Ohio election the Democratic press of the West say they never expected to gain Ohio. The following is a double-leaded dispatch from Columbus to the Cincinnati Enquirer from its own correspondent on Sunday night preceding the election:

If the Democrats should lose Ohio, from thence forward I disavow all faith in political managers. One cannot explain Chairman Barnum's confidence on any theory save that of success. To-night he reiterates with even more vehemence that the State cannot be lost. In this Governor Hoadly enthusiastically unites.

FRANK HURD, the Ohio free trader, scorned to play the double role that a good many candidates of his party essay, in their efforts to "git thar." He went in on the straight issue of free trade against protection, and came out badly worsted. He was elected to the present Congress by a majority of 1,104. He is beaten now by about the same vote, making a difference of over 2,000 votes in a total vote of 28,000. The result tells the story in Ohio, and Hurd's case will do very well as a test case in the nation.

THOSE Democratic politicians and newspapers who have been undertaking to take charge of the Germans and run them into the Bourbon camp have probably discovered by this time that the average German citizen has a habit of thinking for himself. That is amply proved by the result of the Ohio election, where the men of that nationality did not "disaffect" to any alarming extent. Mr. Schurz failed to flaunt his bloody self to any purpose in the Buckeye State.

J. F. EVANS, Special Agent of the U. S. Treasury, stationed in San Francisco, is now in Los Angeles, accompanied by Mrs. Evans. They are stopping at the Pico House. Mr. Evans is an old and trusted officer of the Treasury Department, charged with the performance of very important duties in connection with the customs at one of the first ports in the country. These duties he discharges with ability and fidelity. He wears a Blaine hat, and will stop among the orange groves several days.

ONE "B.," whose identity is not unknown, has a growl in the Evening Express against the TIMES because we said that our aim is not to overload our Sunday issues with politics, save to give the news of current political events; in other words, to eschew political discussion on one day in the week, as a rule. "B.," who does not appear to have any sense, but to be animated chiefly by a spirit of cussedness, carpingly seeks to make the point against the TIMES that after laying down the above rule, it printed "a column and a half, nearly, of the details of the Prohibition County Convention," etc., which action, "B." thinks, was highly inconsistent on our part. "B." is wrong there. We gave a report of the Prohibition Convention as news, believing our readers desired it, and knowing they had a right to expect the paper they are in the habit of reading to furnish such news, the same as other news, whether political or general. Whether the language used by the speakers at that convention was vindictive or moderate, senseless or sensible, mattered not. Our readers wanted to know what was done there and we aimed to supply that want. We believe the Republican party is strong enough to stand the abuse of the Prohibitionists, who are well known as the allies of the Democracy, and the TIMES is not afraid to publish the worst they can say against the party of progress and enlightenment. Our readers want to know, you know, what our friends the enemy are saying, so as to be able to bring the trip-hammer of truth down upon it with great violence. Don't you see, "B."? or are you an able blockhead—a natural-born ecl[illegible]t?

Mr. Blaine's Speech at Fort Wayne Yesterday.

INTERRUPTED BY DEMOCRATIC ROWDIES.

Reasons Why Indiana Should Vote with the Republicans—What a Democratic Success Really Means.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 20.—Blaine left for South Bend this morning at 10 o'clock on a special train. John C. New and a number of Indiana speakers were also on the train. The plan for the day was to drop one speaker at each place where the train stopped, so as to have an orator address the crowd after Blaine had gone. At Elkhart, the first stop, there was a crowd of 8,000 people. Blaine left the train and ascended the stand, where he addressed the people and confined his remarks entirely to the tariff issue. Indiana was very unimportant in the list of States, but last year its industrial products reached the enormous sum of $150,000,000. He wanted to ask any fair or candid man, be he Democrat or Republican, whether that great prosperity could have been reached without a protective tariff. The two parties were divided upon this issue. "Be careful in your judgment as freemen upon the 4th of next November," said Mr. Blaine, as he bid Elkhart good-bye.

INTERRUPTED BY DEMOCRATIC HOODLUMS.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 20.—About 2:30 the train arrived at Fort Wayne. There was a large crowd at the depot and all along the route to the Aveline House, to which Blaine was driven. The streets in front of the hotel and Courthouse square, opposite, and all the adjutant streets were filled with a dense mass of people. When Blaine appeared on the balcony he was loudly cheered, but from one portion of the crowd, including a number of men wearing tall, white hats, there came cheers for Cleveland, and when Blaine attempted to speak he was interrupted by shouts and yells and cheers for Cleveland, coming from the same quarter. Therefore he declined to speak from the balcony, and re-entering the hotel he left it again by a side door, and in company with Chairman New and Hon. William McKinley, of Ohio, was driven up Calhoun street to a point opposite Library Hall. The great body of the crowd followed after, and here, standing upon the driver's seat, he made a speech, as follows:

Citizens of Indiana: The October elections in Ohio and West Virginia have put a new phase on the national contest, or rather they have reproduced an old phase. [Cries of "Good."] The Democratic party, as of old, consider they own all the South solid again. They believe that they will surely get 153 electoral votes from the sixteen Southern States, and then they expect, or they hope, or they claim that they may secure New York and Indiana ["Never, never; it is a dream], and that with New York and Indiana added to the solid South, they will seize the Government, minority free suffrage. [Cheers.] You enjoy that suffrage, and on the fourth day of November next you are to say for which party, for which policy, you will cast your votes. [Loud cries of "For Blaine! for Blaine!"] Not for me personally. ["Yes, yes, yes."] No, I am not speaking for myself. No man ever met with gainfortune in being defeated for the Presidency, while men have met great misfortunes in being elected to it. I am

PLEADING NO PERSONAL CAUSE.

I am pleading the cause of the American people. ["That's it," and cheers.] I am pleading the cause of the American farmer and American manufacturer and mechanic and American labor against the world. [Great cheers.] I am reproached by some excellent people for appearing before these multitudes of my countrymen upon the ground that is inconsistent with the dignity of the office for which I am

TARIFF HISTORY—RESULTS.

The compromise tariff of 1833 worked the ruin of the country before the limits of its reductions had been reached. It was plain that something must be done to arrest the constant decline of industries. In March, 1842, a committee of Congress declared that every branch of industry was paralyzed. There was but one remedy. It was plain that to lower the duties still more to practical free trade would not revive industry nor raise the revenue. The statesmen of those days had not read the last Democratic platform, which demands "lower taxes, that trade and commerce might be unhindered." They had found that "lower taxes had hindered all trade, and killed prosperity, and the remedy was plain—to raise the customs duties." Sad experience had taught the people that "lowering the taxes" had brought idleness to the laboring classes, ruin to capital and poverty to all, while raising the taxes, or duties, had speedily brought restoration. Hence Millard Fillmore reported the tariff bill of 1842, but the Democracy were so pertinacious in their opposition that an increase of from 25 per cent. to 30 per cent. only was obtained for two years, when in 1844 the rate was to be 36.88 per cent.

The effect of this small advance, with the larger secured so near in the future, was magical. The wheels were set in motion everywhere. The farmers' daughters flocked to the mills with happy faces. Money began to circulate. The factory girls soon sent home money enough to pay off the mortgages that free trade had plastered on nearly every farm in New England. This fact passed into proverb. The farmers had a ready market for all they could produce, and soon the supply [illegible] was less than the demand. The march westward set in, and the Western prairies were alive. Villages and cities sprang into existence as if by magic. For four years the prosperity of the country was unprecedented. Henry C. Cary, the economist, describes it in glowing terms. But it was too good to last. The Democratic party could never allow prosperity under a Whig measure. Robert J. Walker, who had so long poisoned the Southern mind with his sophistry, demanded a tariff for revenue. He boldly denied that protection enhanced wages—when the country was full of laborers that had no wages at all, until the tariff of 1842—and claimed with his old sophistry, that foreigners would not buy our agricultural products, meaning cotton, of course, unless they could pay for them in manufactures—although the cotton crop was readily marketed at better figures under the tariff of 1842, and the farmers of the North had ready market at home for all they produced—ignoring actual facts, and relying upon his free-trade theory. But the Democratic party again had the power, and in 1846 reduced duties by a descending scale from 35.88 to 15.43 in 1856.

What was the result? History repeated itself in the panic of 1857. The balance of trade had been steadily growing against us, and the country was drained of its gold. Says a writer: "If the tariff of 1846 had been framed purposely to draw gold out of the country, it could not have been more effectual." Then came the era of wild-cat currency. There was no gold in the country, and the Legislatures of the West authorised the deposit of railroad bonds with the the State, and issue of currency thereon within ten per cent. of their average market value, and banks were organized all through the West on such deposit of bonds. Their places of redemption were generally in some inaccessible place—even at a sawmill in the pineries of Wisconsin. The panic of 1857 swamped all these and lost the people many millions. A providential circumstance postponed this panic till 1857—the discovery of gold in California. But for this new resource, the country would have been drained of its gold much sooner. It took all of this as fast as it was worked out of the sands to settle the balance of trade against us.

Under the tariff of 1846, importations were large, constantly supplanting home industry. With a decreasing duty, the customs receipts rose from $26,712,000 in 1846 to $63,875,000 in 1857. The increase was out of proportion to the increase of population. A revulsion had to come, and the panic brought a reduction in customs receipts to $41,789,000 in 1858, and in 1861 to $39,582,000, when we had an empty Treasury, and had to borrow $22,000,000 to make up a deficiency, besides paying a balance of trade of over $20,000,000 against us.

The country was poor again. The tariff of 1846, and its fathers, the Democrats, were responsible for a third destruction of the prosperity of the country, by a long-drawn period of strangulation, with all its concomitant suffering—labor unemployed, capital imperiled and lost, and general distress in every pursuit.

Such were the results, every time a "tariff for revenue" was tried.

Three plainer, more palpable lessons could not be given of the destructive tendency of free trade, and yet the Democratic party refuse to accept the results of their folly, and so long as the people will sustain them, they will drag the country down in the future, as in the past.

The period that followed the exit of the Democracy in 1861 is a triumphant vindication of the policy of protection.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

The TIMES purposes to demonstrate that the Democratic party is the friend of the Chinese, and the enemy of white labor. To protect free labor you must protect the products of free labor. At present, the only issue of any moment between the Republican and Democratic parties is that of the tariff. The Republican party believes that American industry should be protected, while the Democratic party does not. They profess to be in favor of prohibiting the Chinese from coming to this country, while at the same time they want the products of the Chinese admitted free of duty. This proves their insincerity. The South, which comprises the bulk of the Democratic party, has four millions of colored persons who are to-day substantially slaves and are paid, in many cases, less than one-half the wages that are given at the North to white laborers. She wants cheap labor, but having been told by their Northern brothers that it would be suicidal to favor Chinese immigration to this country, as the workingmen of the North would, if they did, vote to a man against the Democratic party, they have therefore as a matter of policy denounced the unrestricted immigration of the Chinese, but are determined to admit free of duty products made by them elsewhere.

Now, what difference would it make to the working man if the countless hordes of Chinamen manufactured their goods in this country or manufactured them just across the line in British Columbia or Mexico and flooded the country with them, as they will do, should the Democrats elect Cleveland? What is the difference whether the Chinamen work elsewhere or here if the products of their labor come in competition with the products of our labor? It would be worse than having them here; for if they were here they would consume some of our productions. Workingmen, think of these things! God has given you reasoning powers and you will exercise them. If the Democracy should—which God forbid!—elect Cleveland, who is the tool of monopolists, the outlook for the free white labor of this country would be gloomy in the extreme. The opening of our ports to the servile labor of the Mongolian would so depress labor in this country that ruin and desolated homes would be the result.

Is not, then, the Democratic party the friend of the Chinese and the enemy of white labor? Undoubtedly it is; and we think that that party could raise quite a campaign fund from the six Chinese companies. Thwarted in its attempt to destroy the Union by armed rebellion, it would now destroy it by admitting the products of 400,000,000 of Chinamen duty free, thereby putting free white labor on the plane of the Mongolian.

"The Republican party, having its birth in a hatred of slave labor and a desire that all men may be truly free and equal, is unalterably opposed to placing our workingmen in competition with any form of servile labor, whether at home or abroad."—[From National Republican Platform, 1884.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The key-note of the campaign is protection to American industries.

"Yes, I know," said the citizen; "but for which party are you soliciting? You see I—"

"Don't make a particle of difference," responded the hungry man, with kindling enthusiasm. "I vote the straight ticket myself, but I am broad as the ocean in my liberal views. Any party you want to subscribe for, it makes no difference to me. I apply your subscription just as you designate. Give the old cause a lift, can't you?"

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[This is the TIMES-MIRROR'S Public Forum. Those who would stand thereon must first give the editor their real names and be responsible for their opinions and statements.]

Prohibition Allies of the Democracy.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: I take the Western Wave, and am and always have been a Prohibitionist, but I am a Republican withal, and love the party for its heroic deeds of the past. I hate the Democratic party for its disloyalty and traitorous deeds, committed between the years of 1860 and 1865.

In the Wave of Oct. 18, 1884, I find the following: "If the Prohibitionists in Ohio have any character at all, the November election will go for Cleveland. If they are liars, it will go for Blaine."

This has confirmed my first impression upon reading the Wave. It was anything to beat Blaine; a genuine Cleveland sheet. St. John is nothing more or less than a stool pigeon, to decoy Republican votes, that Democracy might regain the place in our government that they righteously lost in trying to disrupt the Union. That little nose gives the Wave away, 'tis the cat out of the bag," as it were, and I appeal to all loyal Republicans to keep that sentence before them when they go to the polls to vote November 4th, for every vote cast by Republicans for St. John will count one for the leader of the enemies of our republic. It is hard to tell whether the Wave meant that the Prohibitionists of Ohio were going for Cleveland straight, or whether it meant that they had decoyed enough Republican votes for St. John to turn the scales in favor of Cleveland. I would take it as meaning the former; but let that be as it may, when the Wave, or any other Prohibition paper, or the temperance people work for the election of the Democratic party, whether by direct votes, or leading Republicans astray on side issues, they are not acting in good faith to the cause they represent, for the Democrats are not now, and never were friendly to temperance. You will find nothing but Republican States that have ever adopted any prohibition measures, but now because the party will not commit suicide by taking up national Prohibition as a party issue, they cry, "Down with them!" and work to replace in power the worst enemy they have on this earth. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

Santa Ana, Oct. 18th.

Shall We Send an Exhibit to the World's Fair?

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: I understand that the great World's Fair at New Orleans is to be on a more magnificent scale than any fair that has ever preceded it in any part of the world. The buildings are to cover thirty acres. The fair is to continue six months, from December 1st to the next June. It is intended to be an exposition of the agricultural, mineral and manufacturing products of 50,000,000 people. It will attract visitors from all quarters of the civilized globe.

Do the people of Los Angeles county and of Southern California adequately appreciate the splendid opportunity that is offered them of advertising their section, and that at very slight cost? The Southern Pacific Railroad Company will transport exhibits to this great Fair and bring them back, I understand, free of cost.

If the exhibit in our local Fair just closed, of fruits, wine, grain, honey, etc., could be transferred bodily to the New Orleans Fair, and properly handled there, would it not prove a splendid advertisement of our section? Indeed, would it not pay, reducing the matter to dollars and cents, to double and treble that exhibit and send on one or more men to look after the same, and answer questions that would surely be asked in regard to the generous products of Los Angeles county? The beautiful display of honey and wine alone in our late Fair would challenge attention and admiration anywhere or in any Fair in the world. Los Angeles county could make a sensation in New Orleans if its people chose to send on free such an exhibit as they are capable of doing. A car could easily be filled from this county. B.

An Example of Honesty Worthy of Note.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: Should one be thanked for honesty? It is not smart to keep all you get and get all you can? Saturday I changed for a stranger a twenty and the next day he called and laid down a twenty and ten-dollar greenback which he said he had received for his twenty. Do you believe the world is growing worse?

Is the first question put to every commercial traveler who [illegible] by our genial neighbors, ere the stupefied person has sold [illegible] his samples or solicited patronage. Well, we don't wonder at it. We handle the quantity and cannot get the inside price, and as a consistent with a legitimate profit, they cannot afford to sell the same and compete with us.

This season we are showing an immense importation of the best dress goods. Our styles embrace the latest novelties in plains and fancies. We are overstocked, and our dress goods piles reaching to the ceiling and at less than wholesale cost. To blow, but a fact, to be substantiated by consulting our prices and them with those of others.

We have just opened nine cases of silks, velvets and plushes, brocades, and are selling these goods from 50c. to $1.50 a yard where.

To-morrow we will show over 500 new cloaks, wraps, [illegible] ettes, circulars, ulsters, etc., etc., in every design and style that are aware that the season is backward, that every house is large importations—are heavily stocked—and if you think [illegible] STORE is going to keep these cloaks you're badly fooled. We get a black eye as well as anybody, and this entire line of sold at less than the cost of the material, and we stake our the truth of this assertion.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Foreign Grain Market.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the English corn trade, says: The weather the past week has been fine and warmer. English wheat was in little demand except for fine parcels. Sales for the week, 73,412 quarters, at 32s 4d, against 65,388 quarters at 42s 6d for the corresponding week last year. Trade in foreign wheat completely demoralized. Waterside stocks and visible supply increasing. Business in cargoes off coast unchanged. Five arrivals: Three cargoes sold; three withdrawn; one remained. Sixteen cargoes now due. Flour neglected. Maize scarce and firm. Barley very dull. Old oats 9s 6d dearer; new foreign oats weaker.

The Decline in Wheat.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Commercial Bulletin says: Wheat sold in London on Saturday lower than at any time this hundred years, and in this market at a lower figure than has been known since the civil war, with serious questioning as to whether bed-rock has, even now, been reached.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, October 20.—The Post's financial article says: The market opened with an avalanche of selling orders, many presumably from out-of-town holders of stocks who became alarmed at the aspect of the market Saturday afternoon. Local speculators on the short side also attacked the market with great vigor, they being operators of a more powerful class than have heretofore been in the market, and there was a general decline in prices. There is no reason to doubt that there was stock carried by large holders, especially in less speculative stocks, like Illinois Central, Rock Island and Burlington, all of which showed an important decline.

NEW YORK, October 20.—Money lends 1½@3; closed, 1½@2. Prime paper, 5@6. Exchange bills unchanged, 483½; demand, 484¼.

Hughes' Russian Baths
Are located at No. 317 Main street, opposite Pico House. These baths consist of steam chambers, with a battery giving a current of Faradic electricity attached to each chamber, a shampoo and shower bath. Also, sulphur, borax and other medicated baths. There has been lately introduced into this sanitary institution the carbonated, galvanic baths, which are highly recommended in all chronic diseases, and as the galvanic is a constant current and free from the shocks of the Faradic current, it can be given in greater quantity, which is always needed in chronic rheumatism, sciatica, and especially in paralytic cases, to give action to the motor nerves to operate on the muscles. Gentlemen and ladies attended to by persons of their own sex. - se11 1f

FITCH'S FAITH.

Ingersoll's Agnosticism Knocked Down with Darwin.

EVOLUTION HIS STRONG FOUNDATION.

Ingersoll Matched in Language and Argument—Christianity Brilliantly Defended—A Synopsis.

The Grand Opera House was not as well filled last evening as it should have been on the occasion of Fitch's reply to Ingersoll, the number of seats being only about half occupied.

Mr. Fitch said he professed no adherence to any religious creed or church. He belongs to a profession—lawyers—which are generally accredited with worshiping a saint whose surroundings are sulphurous. He represents the outsiders, who occasionally fracture a commandment, who attend theaters and balls, horse-racing and read novels, newspapers and other works of fiction. He represented those who, while they may not believe all the Bible, still do not denounce its splendid system of ethics. The human race has been for thousands of years toiling up the Alps of knowledge. When we pause for a moment to review the past, there comes from out its shadows a pitiless philosophy, which says there is no past, no future, faith is a folly, hope is a delusion, once you were not, to-morrow you are not. Mr. Fitch believes not in death, but in a ceaseless existence; man lives consciously and intelligently after the death of this body. There is a God who lives in the center of a universe of law. The belief in the future punishment and reward constitute a restraining power, an invisible police, that should not be abolished. [Applause.]

The materialists believe the evolution of Aristotle, that man is not a dual being. Evolution is the persistence of force, and force never ceases. It may change its direction. Rest can never be found. Rock becomes sand. The depths of the seas are ever going in circles. The stars are swinging in their eternal orbits. The grasses never cease. The pulse of the infant, the rush of Uranus in his path, the snow born from the edge of chaos, all go to show that force has never staid her hand. All things move. Nature never ceases. The beginning is the end and the end is the beginning. [Applause.]

Moses may have made some mistakes, but he made some pretty good guesses. Science has offered nothing to disprove the first chapter of Genesis. He then explained this chapter as he understood it in the light of science. If man be developed or evolved from lower forms of life, as Darwin teaches, why not a higher form be developed or evolved from this present stage? The fish becomes an amphibia, the amphibia becomes a mammal, the mammal becomes a man. Why may not the man become an angel? If man has been evolved from the lower forms of organic life, why may not a higher form be evolved from him? Has all formulated force ceased in him?

Because we have not seen spirits or spirit bodies is no argument against them. You do not see the mind or electricity. It is the combination who lays hold upon annihilation. Is it in the homily of nature that any power is lost? Darwinism evolves man from the vertebrate; materialism denies a future existence; evolution teaches that in turn he will be the parent of future life. Materialists say that because we cannot recollect when we were oysters, therefore we will not remember the present life in the future, and that will be practical annihilation. But who can tell that we will not then remember?

The mollusk becomes a fish, the fish a reptile, the reptile an amphibia, the amphibia a quadruped, the quadruped a man. Each one of these preserves its best part to become the foundation of the next higher form.

The grain of corn taken from the wrappings of a mummy, when exposed to light, water and earth, springs to life. May it not be so with the soul, when removed from this clod of a body and exposed to the conditions of the other world, grow, and be as far superior to the present state as the oak is to the acorn?

There are those who have a spiritual sense, who can discern spiritual things, who hear the singing of Heaven's lark in the desert of life, and know there is an immortal soul.

He admitted Ingersoll's matchless wit, but he wished there were thrown enough in Washington to keep him employed the rest of his life. [Applause.]

No religion ever existed but the world was the better for it. Where in India is a Hindu hospital? Where in China Buddhist society for diffusion of knowledge? What Young Men's Mohammedanism Association ever provided a course of lectures in Turkey? In the race course Christianity abolished snaffles and loaded whips and kindness brought out Julien and Maud S. [Applause.]

Materialists believe that thought is the secretions of the brain, as bile is of the stomach. Then food forces act upon the brain, and courage is the result of a beefsteak. Adolphus says to his Cremantha Ann, "My dearest, will your accumulation of molecules be attracted by the collection of my protoplasms forevermore?" [Laughter.]

The intellect goes out with the tide, but the tide goes elsewhere. The spirit goes out of the body as death to the unknown world beyond. His peroration on the soul's immortality was well worded and delivered.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Fine Blaine and Logan Meetings in the City and Country.

A large Republican meeting was held at San Pedro last evening, addressed by Messrs. Kelly, Magee, Ward, Dunsmoor and others. Before the speaking there was a torchlight parade, over one hundred torches being in line. The addresses made were listened to with the closest attention, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

ANOTHER AT SANTA ANA.

A large enthusiastic Republican meeting was held at Santa Ana Saturday evening the 18th. The speakers of the evening were Gen. M. Thomas, C. H. Dunsmoor, George Gephard, A. McFarland, George E. Gard and Hon. W. A. Cheney. Excellent music was furnished by the Tustin Brass Band. The meeting closed with three rousing cheers for Blaine and Logan and Markham and the Los Angeles ticket.

SANTA ANA REPUBLICANS.

The meeting of the Republicans of Santa Ana last Saturday was by far the best of the campaign. The attendance was large, and the enthusiasm unbounded. The candidates made a favorable impression on every person in the county could give the lift Santa Ana can a large Republican majority would be assured.

AT SAN PEDRO.

Last night a party of politicians went down to San Pedro to whoop up the town. A wagon load of torches were also along. The party consisted of Major George E. Gard, C. H. Dunsmoor, Hon. W. A. Cheney, George M. Holton, George Gephard, Hon. H. W. Magee, Ben E. Ward, F. P. Kelly, J. R. Bierly and Aaron Smith.

COLORED REPUBLICANS.

The Colored Central Republican Club met last night at 215 Los Angeles street, with Jacob Soares in the chair, after the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The Committee on Arrangements for the parade on next Saturday reported progress. The club points to one hundred strong for next Saturday night. Eleven new members signed the roll. The club adjourned, to meet on Thursday to accomplish arrangements for the parade, with "Three cheers for the Republican party."

A Chinese Theater.

The Chinese have built a large wooden theater on the lot between Negro alley and Alameda street. It will accommodate over 1,200 persons. The stage is fitted up with scenery and everything is ready to represent the great junk scene.

Insane.

Two men were examined yesterday by the Commission lunatico de inquirendo and committed to Stockton. They were John Word, of Azusa, and J. F. Buckley, of Pomona. Deputy Sheriff Huber will take them up this afternoon.

Gambling in Chinatown.

It having been reported that the Chinese gamblers who were recently suppressed in Chinatown had opened out again, a TIMES reporter, in company with Chief Cuddy, paid a visit last night to Nigger alley and the adjacent streets where the Mongolians most do congregate. Everything was quiet, and the moon-eyed heathen were enjoying themselves in their customary manner, with music on their peculiarly constructed fiddles and beating of the Chinese drum, accompanied by the singing of one of their number in a monotone that must be heard to be appreciated. Beyond a few tables in several of the houses at which numbers of Chinamen were engaged in playing dominoes, nothing in the nature of gambling was discovered, and as the visit of Chief Cuddy was unexpected and made on the spur of the moment, the report of the old gambling houses having opened up is untrue.
